Mission

To build a community of strong, healthy families who protect and nurture children.

Diversity Statement

The Village's commitment to diversity extends beyond our words.

Diversity fuels our mission.

We believe that we are stronger and better when we actively include diverse people and thought to guide our practices and engagement with others. Through our diversity we learn fundamental truths, discover opportunities to create a more inclusive society, and enact real change.

Dear Friends,

As we emerge from the pandemic, we know the way we address mental health cannot—and should not—return to normal. The pandemic exacerbated the existing crisis and exposed the need for change. The stigma around mental illness is finally crumbling because families in every circle and zip code are feeling the impact. The opportunity for systemic change is here, and The Village is leading the way.

We started by expanding services. The Village grew its telehealth program, increased pediatric referrals, nearly doubled the investment in school-based programs and purchased a building in downtown Hartford to launch a new outpatient clinic. Today The Village serves clients in 59 towns, compared to 8 before the pandemic.

We're also doing more than ever to find children safe, healthy homes. The Village now runs the largest foster care program in Connecticut. We also opened the first-ever Quality Parenting Center to help children in foster care heal from trauma and reunite with their biological parents.

The Village knows that social determinants, such as housing and education, can impact mental health, so we're broadening our approach. We expanded our home visiting program for new parents and plan to launch the Upward Mobility initiative, supported in part by the Hartford Foundation for Public Giving.

This work requires strong partnerships, dedicated volunteers, generous donors and amazing staff. This annual report honors their contributions. As you read through it, you will notice how The Village helps people at every stage of their lives. We believe in treating the whole person, from every angle, and never giving up. This holistic approach to wellness is represented by the circle, a symbol found in many cultures and traditions that is tied to healing. Thank you for being part of The Village's circle. Together, the possibilities are endless.

Genesisia and Galia

Once her baby girl was born, Genesisia’s life changed.

Like many new moms, she needed support as she embarked on her journey of caring for a newborn.

When self-doubt crept in, The Village helped answer Genesisia’s questions about how to properly care for her daughter and make sure she was on the right developmental path.

The Village was also by her side to help ensure her basic needs—like food and diapers—were met, so Genesisia was able to focus on developing a strong bond with her baby.

new parents received home visiting services from The Village in FY22

The Village supports new moms so their babies can thrive.

Home visits from The Village guarantee that new moms like Genesisia will not embark on their motherhood journey alone.

The Village helps pregnant and new parents by addressing their most pressing needs, providing in-home services that include a wide array of guidance from child development to intensive in-home psychotherapy to case management and support for those in recovery.

Partnerships with hospitals and community agencies allow Village clients to gain access to specialists in mental health and wellness, nutrition and disabilities.

Sonia, Adryan and Sheyla

As a single mom without any family in the United States, Sonia needed support when her children, Adryan and Sheyla, experienced emotional abuse by a friend of the family and were suffering.

That's when she reached out to The Village. Through therapy and support services, Sonia and her children were able to learn ways to navigate through their fears and work together as a family unit.

They are also now part of a church community and continue building a network of social support.

Childhood is a precious time, filled with making memories, but it can also be filled with addiction, anxiety, conduct issues, depression, grief and loss, PTSD, school challenges, family violence or crime. Treatment is available through The Village's outpatient mental health services.

Children of all ages are able to receive specialized help from The Village and are matched with clinicians based on their specific concerns.

Stephanie, Jazlene and Josavian

Stephanie's first priority is making sure her children, Jazlene and Josavian, are happy and safe.

As a working mom, finding child care during the after-school hours was a struggle.

Thanks to The Village's free after-school program at her children's school, she didn't have to worry—Jazlene and Josavian are now able to get homework help, enjoy enrichment activities and make new friends in a safe, nurturing environment.

The Village ensures that school-aged children have support throughout their day.

School-based programs provided by The Village at 17 Hartford and Vernon Public Schools play an integral role in positively impacting students' academic, social and emotional development.

For students like Jazlene and Josavian, that support includes help from Village social workers, family resource centers and after-school programs.

Parents and caregivers say they are relieved that there is help when they need it most.

Sulma, Kimberly and Julio

Sulma and her children, Kimberly and Julio, left Honduras for a better life in the United States. During their travels, they became victims of human trafficking.

When Sulma searched for help coping with what they experienced, The Village was there.

Through therapy, Kimberly and Julio are working through their trauma. Julio is calmer and his nightmares have stopped. Kimberly is acclimating well to her new school and has learned how to become an advocate for herself.

The Village always helps me with my family, and I am so happy.

The Village helps children and adolescents heal from their trauma.

When children experience trauma, life can turn upside down and their development may be affected. It's critical that they receive the right supports, at the right time, to heal.

The Village's multidisciplinary team of psychiatrists, APRNs, psychologists and clinicians work to ensure children and adolescents achieve the progress and change they are looking for as they tackle life's challenges.

Through this support, they increase their ability to cope and build resilience to improve their lifelong trajectories.

Jayden and Naobi

Jayden had a hard time expressing his emotions in a healthy way.

Once he enrolled in The Village's six-month day program, he was able to develop and practice coping skills.

When Jayden participated in a special basketball clinic as part of an educational sports-therapy program at The Village, he learned trust, teamwork and communication.

I'm most proud of being able to control myself and communicate more when I'm feeling frustrated.

The Village helps children and adolescents develop healthy social and coping skills.

When children and adolescents need support with social or coping skills, The Village provides daily peer groups, family support, therapy, case management and medication management in a short-term day program.

Levi and his family

When the pandemic was in full swing, Levi's ADHD and anxiety were heightened. He was having a hard time adapting as school and daily routines were quickly changing.

The Village's telehealth option made access to help and medication management easier while Levi attended school virtually and his parents juggled work schedules.

Through virtual therapy sessions, he was able to receive help in a convenient way and learn different techniques to navigate challenging life situations.

50% of Village clients live outside of Hartford, coming from 59 towns

The Village ensures pre-teens and teens have access to services, regardless of their zip code.

The COVID-19 pandemic catapulted the children's mental health crisis to a new level. Suddenly, the need for services increased, as everyone was affected.

The Village's telehealth services grew, reaching children, pre-teens and teens in many more cities and towns across Connecticut.

Today, families who are facing challenges and need support are provided with top-notch care, whether in person or virtually.

In fact, even as referrals increase in Hartford, 50% of Village clients now live outside of Hartford, coming from 59 cities and towns.

Ashley

Ashley went through some hard times, which led to being separated from her son. When she was working to reunify with him, she reached out to The Village.

Even though she was hesitant, she knew it was critical to spend quality one-on-one time with her son in order to strengthen their bond while he was in foster care.

When Ashley was provided with space and support to visit with him she was able to grow as a mom and sharpen her parenting skills.

The Village—in partnership with the Connecticut Department of Children and Families (DCF)—opened a first-of-its-kind Quality Parenting Center to provide a comfortable, home-like environment where parents can enjoy family time with their children while they are in foster care or under the custody of another caregiver.

Access to parent coaches, mental health support, substance use and recovery support, and financial and career coaching is also offered to help parents heal, bond with their children and strengthen their life skills.

Samar

Samar was completely broken after escaping a domestic violence situation.

She reached out to The Village for help, despite being told by others that she wouldn't be able to make it as a single mother of four children.

In the months that followed, Samar was able to care for her kids, continue her education and start a career in the nursing field. She has big dreams and is working hard to create the life she always wanted.

The Village helps women build resilience and a better future.

Using a client-centered and collaborative approach to behavioral health, The Village works with women, just like Samar, who are facing any number of challenges, including addiction, marital issues, grief and loss, PTSD, stage of life transitions and more.

Communication and connection to the best therapists are the cornerstone of good care. Feedback-informed practice at The Village ensures that those seeking support can be open about the care they are receiving and what can be done to help them move forward.

Norman

Norman became a first-time father at the age of 54.

His new responsibilities coupled with his wife’s personal struggles caused intense feelings of fear and loneliness.

Just when it seemed all hope was lost, The Village was there to help. He received the support—and as he says, “another family”—that he needed to connect with other dads, embrace fatherhood and become a role model for his son.

Today, Norman and his wife are proudly parenting Alexander together.

Before, I was just a shell of a man. Now I’m a father—I’m a man who is going to take care of another human being.

Pictured right: Attendees enjoy the Dad Hero Event, a community day to celebrate the role fathers play in their children’s lives. The Village partnered with My People Clinical Services, the Department of Children and Families and other organizations to make the event possible.

The Village helps hundreds of dads find new hope.

When fathers are working to reunite with their children, The Village is committed to helping them learn skills to become involved, responsible and committed dads.

Intensive outreach, case management services and group programming all bolster fathers’ positive parenting relationships.

When fathers just like Norman are striving to better their lives for the sake of their children, The Village is there to help them reach their goals.

Tammy

Tammy—like so many others—became unemployed due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

When her faith and confidence started to fade, she knew she needed help. That’s when she reached out to The Village’s Financial Opportunity Center.

Soon after, Tammy got help with her budget and credit, in addition to receiving support for her emotional health.

Today, with renewed self-esteem, she’s working full-time, going to school to advance her position in the healthcare field and is actively saving to purchase a home.

Meet the helpers and healers...

As you flip through the second half of this annual report, you will see the saying “it takes a village” come to life.

The work done at The Village could not happen without support from the community organizations, incredible staff, dedicated volunteer Auxilians, local legislators and thousands of donors who partner with us each and every day.

...who are providing support that touches thousands of lives.

For decades, the Hartford Foundation for Public Giving has been one of The Village’s most important partners. Now, the Hartford Foundation is deepening that relationship with a three-year commitment of $4.5 million. The grant funding will support all aspects of The Village’s mission with a special focus on:

- Breaking cycles of poverty and trauma
- Fostering student success and a pipeline to employment
- Enhancing The Village’s capacity to grow and serve more clients

The Village is grateful for the Hartford Foundation’s visionary leadership and Board of Directors, understanding that it takes a holistic approach to transform lives. We can’t wait to update you on our outcomes in next year’s annual report.

After children complete their care at Eagle House—The Village’s psychiatric residential treatment facility—many transition to foster care. During a surging mental health crisis, amid the pandemic, this transition was harder than ever.

Backed by an extensive network of dedicated foster parents, and as the state’s largest foster care provider—covering Hartford, Manchester and New Britain—The Village foster care team works hard in tandem with clinical staff at Eagle House to ensure children are placed in homes that meet their individual needs and provide them with safety and stability so they can grow and thrive.

The new legislation provides $100 million to increase access to services, improve affordability and bolster prevention efforts.

The Village is proud to be a part of the effort and will continue working with policy makers on important reforms to Connecticut's mental health system.

...who are stepping up like never before.

New donors are getting involved in big ways to help those we serve.

When hurricane flooding ruined our stock of new school supplies for local children, hundreds of new donors stepped up to replace 1,000 damaged backpacks in 48 hours—just in time for the start of school. Many new supporters also sent heartwarming holiday cards to children living at The Village—and away from family—with special messages of encouragement, reminding them that they are not alone.

All told, our donor support rose by an incredible 41% in the last year.

It was a blessing that we were able to receive this [help] because at one time I was laid off and I couldn't afford any of it.

Their generosity over the years has impacted countless lives and their legacy gift will sustain programs and services well into the future.

Generous benefactors like the Coopers, who have indicated their intent to make a legacy commitment to The Village, become members of our planned giving group, The Village Legacy Society. By recognizing the importance of financial stewardship and making a significant commitment to help secure a vibrant future for The Village, they serve as a compelling example of generosity to others.

Girl Within: Empowering women and girls, celebrating resiliency

Each year on the first Friday in December The Village hosts a celebration to honor the resilience of women and girls and raise funds to support life-changing services at The Village. The Village's largest fundraiser of the year, the event has raised more than $1.6 million since its inception.

In 2021, the 21st Annual Girl Within Event raised more than $150,000. The celebration featured powerful, inspiring stories from Village clients who have experienced significant challenges but found their inner strength to overcome them with The Village's support.

Thank you to our presenting sponsor, The Hartford, for generously supporting the Girl Within Event.

The gift of inspiration

Generous customers at Barnes & Noble in Glastonbury donated 1,500 new books for children and teens we serve across Greater Hartford during a holiday book drive, helping to foster literacy, aid in pandemic learning loss and empower young readers to discover the magic of reading.

Revving up in Rockville

Hundreds of car enthusiasts displayed their vehicles and came together to appreciate the array of unique models at the 10th Annual KIDSAFE CT Car Show. Proceeds from the event support early childhood, parenting support and mental health services at Vernon-based KIDSAFE CT, an affiliate of The Village.

Celebrating the power fatherhood

Our 11th Annual Foursomes for Fatherhood Golf Classic at TPC River Highlands raised nearly $100,000 for The Village's Fatherhood Engagement Services thanks to event sponsors and more than 120 golfers—many of whom are fathers themselves—who all came out swinging for the cause!

Young leaders, big hearts

We are continuously inspired by the children who step up to help others in need, and this year was no exception. From providing warm coats and cozy blankets for other kids to coordinating faith-based fundraisers for families, these young people contributed their time and talents to make a big impact.

Pictured above: (L) Phoebe Rotelli provides hundreds of coats during annual coat drive; (R) Evan Forrest delivers games for children in residential treatment for his bar mitzvah service project.

Pictured middle: (L) Andrew Bombard delivers diapers and basic needs items for Village families for his confirmation service project; (R) Ryan King raised $800 in cash, gift cards and items for Village families.

Community is at our core

Service to our community is central to all that we do. We had the honor of engaging with many partners for countless events across Greater Hartford. Coming together to help others inspires our staff to do even more next year.

Holistic health and preventative care

Our commitment to the health of the community we serve remains a top priority. This year, we helped families get vaccinated against COVID-19, provided a hub of resources at our Health Fair and teamed up with the City of Hartford, United Way of Central and Northeastern Connecticut and the Hartford Police Department to help Greater Hartford residents safely dispose of unneeded prescriptions.

Building bright futures

Our Early Childhood Learning Center in Asylum Hill in Hartford is fortunate to receive support from community members who help enrich our preschoolers' education, from free dental consultations and lessons on toothbrushing to hands-on lessons about animals and nature.

Thank you to The Hartford for supporting this center and related programs that help Asylum Hill families thrive.

Protecting dignity, serving the community

The Connecticut State Capitol Police were instrumental partners over the last year. They raised thousands of dollars to help families we serve provide holiday gifts and meals for their children. They also collected several pallets of food for Village clients amid nationwide shortages.

Endowment Gifts

A strong endowment is a critical component of an institution’s financial strength. Funds established in support of The Village’s endowment provide program support for the families we serve today and for future generations. They also generate steady and predictable income for daily operations. We are grateful to the donors who established these lasting gifts:

- Ruth E. Clark Memorial Endowment Fund
- Norbert Fried Memorial Scholarship Fund
- Dian D. and Irving J. Friedman Family Fund
- Friends of the Family Endowed Fund
- Cynthia B. Godfrey Memorial Fund

The kindness of their hearts

Gifts “in-kind”—including items like winter coats, food and hygiene items—help relieve families from having to make difficult decisions on which necessary items they can provide their children. The Village was able to provide many of these crucial items thanks to the generosity of local groups and organizations.

Increasing access, integrating healthcare

The Village and Genoa Healthcare celebrated the grand opening of a full-service, on-site pharmacy for clients at The Village's Wethersfield Avenue campus, Village South. The new pharmacy is integrated with The Village's 40+ programs and significantly boosts clients' access to pharmacy care.

A new downtown location

The demand for children's mental health services has surged, and The Village is committed to addressing that need. The Village purchased a 32,000 square-foot downtown office building at 450 Church Street in Hartford to house a children's outpatient clinic and other programs. The new location is set to open in 2023.

Ambassadors

Ambassadors are engaged members of the community who share a commitment to The Village's mission and help spread the word about and garner support for The Village.

Committee of the Auxilians

The Village and the children and families we serve are fortunate to have the support of more than 400 volunteer Auxilians.

Among many other things, the Auxilians run our Second Chance Shops, thrift boutiques that sell new and gently used clothing and household items. All proceeds from the Shops support The Village.

Meet the team that meets the moment.

The Village can deliver life-changing services to children and families because of our incredible staff. During FY22 we invested $1.5 million in wage and benefit increases and earned a Top Workplace Award for the third year in a row. The Village is proud that our staff represents the diversity of our clientele, and we will continue hiring new team members who will strengthen our culture of collaboration and innovation.
